DEATH OF MR. ISAAC WILSON

At two o'clock on Friday afternoon last, at the Blairmore hospital, death removed another of the old-time landmarks of The Pass in the person of Mr. Isaac Wilson, well known and popular postmaster of Frank.

Up to about two weeks of the illness that resulted in his death, Mr. Wilson was always in enjoyment of perfect health and a robust constitution. About two weeks ago he contracted a severe attack of influenza, which in a few days developed into pneumonia. He was removed from his home in Frank to the Blairmore hospital, where all possible was done to restore him to health, but he failed to rally. His sons, Lorne, of Calgary, and Norman, of Camrose, arrived in town on Friday morning, train and together with his daughter with whom he resided, Mrs. McKenzie, were present when the end came.

Mr. Wilson came to The Pass over twenty years ago from Perth, Ontario, and for the past eighteen years or more has filled the position of postmaster at Frank very efficiently. In addition to this post he has been connected with the school board at Frank, both as a trustee and secretary-treasurer, and in such capacities his services were always considered of great value. His passing removes not only a landmark of the pioneer days of The Pass, but a citizen of the highest character.

He is survived by three sons and one daughter, Lorne Wilson, of Calgary; Norman Wilson, of Camrose; Howard Wilson, of Montreal; and Mrs. McKenzie, of Frank; also two sisters, Mrs. Allan, of Winnipeg, and Mrs. Miller, of Perth, Ontario.

The remains were taken to Calgary by Saturday night's train accompanied by the two sons and daughter, and were laid to rest on Monday afternoon. A short service was held here on Saturday afternoon by the Rev. J. L. Wright, of Bellevue, assisted by Rev. J. W. Smith, B.D. The funeral services at Calgary were conducted by Rev. George Dickson, assisted by Rev. W. T. Young, former pastor of the Methodist church at Frank, with which deceased was for a number of years closely associated.

Mr. Wilson was predeceased by his wife about ten years.

CARD OF THANKS

The sons and daughter of the late Mr. Isaac Wilson wish to extend their sincerest thanks to the people of Frank and Blairmore for the many kindnesses shown during the brief illness of their father. The many beautiful floral tributes are also acknowledged.

ALLEGED BOGUS CHEQUE

ARTIST IS REMANDED

Charged with forging and uttering and false pretences, William Henry Willoughby, of Blairmore, appeared before Magistrate Hamilton on Monday afternoon, and was remanded for sentence to the next afternoon. To a cheque of the amount of $86 he forged the name of Bruce Robinson, well known Calgary man, and obtained from Maurice Moscovitch an overcoat, a violin, a shirt, a pair of socks and $7 in cash.—Lethbridge Herald.

INSTITUTE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Books are coming in slowly. Help us get 1000 good books for the library by the end of this month. We don't want junk, or books ready to fall to pieces. Worthwhile books in all departments of literature are needed. Children's books, boys' and girls', fiction, general literature, art, classics, science, religion, travel, history, etc. We have set Saturday, February the 10th, as our objective for the opening day. Will you help us? Bring your books, or phone and we will call and get them, or send money and we will buy books in these sections where they are most needed.—J. W. Smith, Librarian.

INSTITUTE OF MANUAL TRAINING AND HOME ART

A senior course in manual training, theory and practice is offered to boys over 12 years. An entrance fee of two dollars for the course will be charged. This covers all expenses for tuition and practice material. Most articles made will be the property of pupil if cost of material is met. Each pupil, however, will be expected to make two articles for the school. The accommodation is very limited and the first twelve boys signing up will be admitted. Class commences, Tuesday, January 22nd at 7.30.

C. N. P. HOCKEY LEAGUE

Following is the standing for the Crow's Nest Pass Hockey League as at January 2nd; showing the number of games played, won and lost, goals for and against and the points for each team:

Team	P	W	L	F	A	Pt
Coleman	4	4	0	18	7	8
Hillcrest	3	3	0	21	6	6
Bellevue	4	0	4	7	19	0
Bellevue	3	0	3	6	20	0

The next game is on Friday night, January 4th, between two as yet undefeated teams. Coleman and Blairmore will clash on Blairmore ice for the league leadership, and it is hoped that the Blairmore fans will be out in full force to boost their home team on to victory and at the same time help the club financially. The capacity of the rink is 1500.

Games next week — Bellevue at Hillcrest, January 7th; Blairmore at Coleman, January 8th; Hillcrest at Bellevue, January 9th, and Bellevue at Blairmore, January 11th. These games complete the first half of the league schedule.

BLAIRMORE BEARCATS WIN AT MEDICINE HAT

The Blairmore Bearcats journeyed to Medicine Hat on New Year's Day and treated the Mad Hatters to a real exhibition of how Canada's national winter game should be played.

Close on two thousand people witnessed a hard fought battle. For the first two periods both teams put up a hard fight to get the decision, but the Bearcats, being in better condition, swept their opponents off their feet in the final period, sagging the twice four times in that frame and holding the Hatters scoreless, the final score being six to two. The game was very clean, only three one-minute penalties being handed out.

It was anybody's game until Blairmore went on their third-period scoring bee. The score at the end of the first period was Blairmore two, Medicine Hat one, and at the end of the second two all.

Quite noticeable to the Blairmore boys was the different support in the two towns. On the two games Blairmore went in the hole about $70.00, while Medicine Hat cleared over $500.00.

Mr. Robert Gray is a business visitor to Winnipeg.

POLICE'S NEW ROLE

Members of the provincial police force—140 in all—will now be game guardians. They will enforce the provisions of the Game Act just as they enforce the provisions of other acts. During the hunting seasons they will patrol and protect. It is believed that the new system will help the situation tremendously, and that it will tend to reduce the game slaughtering by Indians. Concerning this, some sad reports have been received, but the proof details have been lacking. The matter is receiving attention with a view to effecting improvement. Have you any definite information that you can provide?—Calgary Fish and Game Association.

MURTON DOWSETT VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Murton Dowsett, C.P.R. brakeman, died in hospital at Macleod from injuries sustained when he fell beneath a moving freight car at Granum on Wednesday.

Dowsett was very well known in this district, having followed his occupation as brakeman on the run from Macleod to Crow's Nest for several years.

He was married about a year ago and his young bride survives. His father resides in Lethbridge.

World's Largest Medal

Awarded to Edmonton Man By Government Of China

The owner of the world's largest medal has been discovered after a search of many years, conducted by scientists interested in such things. Tom C. Douglas, of the Edmonton office of "The Times" Settlement Board, is the man.

It was for performing the last rites for a party of Chinese road workers, killed in France when they thoughtlessly camped on a spot selected by a night-dying Goliath to lay its eggs. That Mr. Douglas won his medal.

Serving with the Canadians, the Edmontonian was commanded to inter the dead Chinese, which he did with a delicacy and tact that won the admiration of all beholders.

A few months after coming back to the city, Mr. Douglas received a large parcel. It turned out to be a medal, about one foot across, with a couple of yards of red ribbon on it and covered with Chinese ideographs. A letter with the parcel explained that it was a gift from the Chinese government—which government, is not quite clear—as a reward for his services in burying the dead Chinese in France.

Unfortunately, owing to its weight and size, Mr. Douglas has never been able to wear the medal.

Why She Was There

"If it hadna been for my siller!" was dimmed into McTavish's ears from morning till night by his most unattractive wife. The poor man was paying heavily for the privilege of marrying a woman with a "fat dowry."

Buying a fine-stepping mare at the local monthly market, he rode the animal home, and immediately on his arrival he called to Margaret to come and see the new purchase.

"She's no a bad mare, McTavish," mildly admitted his wife, "and if it hadna been for my money she wouldna have been here!"

"Diel tak ye woman," angrily exclaimed the husband. "If it hadna been for yer siller ye wouldna have been here yerself!"—Sir Harry Lauder.

Depends On The Teacher

"I can't understand it!" said a farmer, after watching with undisguised envy a series of tricks performed by a pedlar's dog. "Here is this mongrel of yours doing tricks, and clever things, and there is my dog, with a pedigree a yard long, can't be taught a single thing! I've hammered at it till I'm tired of him. He won't learn even the simplest tricks!" "Well, sir," said the pedlar, "the dog's pedigree is confidential. You have to know more'n he does, or you can't learn him anything!"

Washed Eggs No
Good For Storage

Experiments Show It Detracts From Their Keeping Qualities

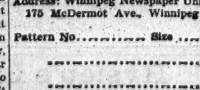

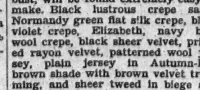

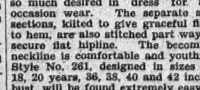

Experience has shown that washed eggs are suitable only for immediate consumption, and will not stand up under storage conditions for any length of time. Although the washed eggs may get by for a short time, and be quite acceptable on the fresh egg market, its inferiority is immediately evident after a period of storage.

Experiments carried on at several Dominion Experimental Farms have shown that clean eggs which graded 75 per cent. specials and 25 per cent. extras before storage, graded 85 per cent. extras, 12 per cent. firsts, and 3 per cent. weak and watery after six months storage. Dirty eggs grading similarly when placed in storage came out practically on a par with the clean eggs. Washed eggs, however, stored under similar conditions graded only 45 per cent. extras, 24 per cent. firsts, and 31 per cent. weak and watery, or nearly 50 per cent. inferior to both the clean and dirty eggs.

Evidently the washing of eggs detracts from their keeping qualities to such an extent that it may be considered to be bad practice. It is advisable by cleanliness and sanitation on the poultry plant to avoid the producing of dirty eggs, writes H. S. Gutteridge, Poultry Husbandman, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Dirty eggs, when stored, should be marketed as such. By washing them the poultryman is placing a product of inferior quality upon the market.

The first insurance policy was issued on June 15, 1833, on the life of one William Gibbons.

Abbreviated Language

Transforming English into a Language Of Short Words

Is it true that the English language is about to transform itself into a language full of short words, spoken with a rapid, staccato utterance? That is the dismal prospect suggested by Professor Otto Jespersen in his lecture delivered to the British Academy; and no doubt there is much evidence in favor of the conclusion. A language that has developed with inflection is on the way to "monosyllabism"—a word which, by the way, goes comfortably far to correct the tendency which it names. Then there is also the subtle influence of slang, which tends always to invent some short, sharp substitute for any word that places the least strain on the tongue; and popular custom inevitably adapts itself to the line of least resistance.

Then, again, there is the influence of the American vernacular, which is becoming more and more potent in this country, thanks to its vivid, picturesque and humorous quality, which so easily disarms resentment of its vulgarity. It is easy to believe, with Professor Otto Jespersen, that the tendency to monosyllabism is stronger in English than in any other language. Anyone who dabbles in verse-making is painfully aware of the difficulty of avoiding those strings of monosyllables which are so fatal to rhythm and cadence. And yet there may be hope. For, whatever may be the syllabic degeneration of their language, the English people retain their simple affection for long words. When no other utterance of Mr. Churchill's is remembered, his phrase about "terminological incursions" will be cherished with affection. And, after all, whatever may be said against monosyllabism, it can be no bad thing that the habit of using simple words for simple things should be encouraged.

There is much virtue in calling a spade a spade, instead of an agricultural implement.—London Post.

Cannot Dispute O'Malley Claim

Irish Family Dates Further Back Than Any In Britain

England's proudest families are said to take second place when they take cognizance of the proud pedigree of the famous O'Malleys of Ireland.

The O'Malley claim is based on a magnificent illuminated pedigree, with pages bordered in green and gold, and with coats of arms in scarlet and blue and black, which is registered in the Office of Arms, at Dublin Castle. A hundred years ago it was certified by Sir William Betham, the Ulster King of Arms, as being "founded on evidence of the most unquestionable and authentic character." It proves that the O'Malleys are descended in an unbroken male line from 365 A.D., when it joined the Milesian-Gaelic Irish Kings of Ireland.

The Shirleys and Greasleys in England still claim to be the oldest families, but they have not been able to dispute the O'Malley claim.

No Rival Of Canadian Banks

Conditions Is View In London

The decision to establish a branch of Barclays Bank, Ltd., in Canada is singled out by financial commentators. The London Financial Times says it gathers that Barclays Bank does not intend to extend its operations throughout the Dominion in competition with existing institutions, but that the future activities of the Canadian branch will depend on developments. The newspaper draws attention to two interesting points, first, how far the new bank will succeed in penetrating the existing system, and second, its relations to the New York call market. The Financial Times expresses the opinion that if Barclays Bank fall into the practice whereby Canadian banks lend surplus funds in Wall Street, it will mean the establishment of a new, direct, connection between London and New York, thus in part forging a new and valuable link in the chain of Empire banking. The proposal, it is conceded, contains possibilities likely to lead to interesting developments.

Anti-Japanese Boycott
Order Has Been Issued Against Merchants In China

Chinese merchants who sell Japanese goods are to be paraded through the streets of Peking in wooden cages, while the people mock at them, according to an order issued by the local branch of the Kuomintang (National Party).

Wooden cages have been used for similar purposes in southern provinces before, including Shanghai, but this is the first time the device has been used in the North to enforce a boycott. The anti-Japanese boycott is reported to be strengthening in all parts of China, and merchants are forbidden to sell even the Japanese goods which they have in stock. Inspectors are visiting shops to inspect the goods.

Might Be Good Move
News comes from France that a league has been formed there to ban banquets on the grounds that they place too great a strain upon the digestion and the purse. This, we take it, is a step forward of the movement which has been going on that speeches at banquets should be few and very short. It is not only a step forward in this, but obviously would do away with after-dinner speeches altogether. There are good reasons why this subject should receive due consideration.

Identified The Painting
Col. Mackenzie Rogers, a good story about a party of Lancashire folk visiting a Northern art gallery. They halted before a fine full-length picture of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden.

"What's that, mother?" inquired one of the gentlemen of the party "I'll look in 'book," said she, consulting the catalogue.

"Why," she burst out a moment later, "it's Queen Elizabeth receiving the Spanish Ambassador!"

An Irishman said to a friend as they were about to go into the dining room. "If you can guess the number of eggs I'm going to have for dinner, you can have them both."

"Two," said the other.

"Take 'em," said the Irishman, "and curse the man that told ye."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
JANUARY 6

OUR HEAVENLY FATHER

Golden Text: "Like as a father pitieth his children, so Jehovah pitieth them that fear Him."

Lesson: Exodus 34:4-7; Psalm 103:1-5; 10:14; Isaiah 40:27-31; Matthew 5:34-35; John 3:3-6; 4:20-24; 8:40-47; Romans 2:2-11; 8:14-17; 1 John 4:7-16.

Devotional Reading: John 3:6-9; 4:20-24.

Explanations and Comments
Serve God Only, verse 24.—"You cannot serve, be the slave, of both God and mammon. The word mammon comes from a Syriac word meaning that in which one puts his trust in riches, the word has come to mean riches. You cannot put your trust in God and also in riches. It is not a sin to have riches, but it is a sin to put your trust in riches."

You cannot serve God and mammon; there is room in your heart for loyalty to one only. "How do you know the will of one God?" a father said to his son, to test him. "Suppose after all, we should be mistaken, and that there are two gods, what a great many gods?" "Why, father," the boy replied, "where would you put them? There's room for only one."

Trust God, verses 25-34.—Five things in ten verses Jesus says: "Be not anxious. Therefore I say unto you, 'Be not anxious for your life.' The Authorized Version reads, 'Take no thought for your life, because at the time that translation was made the words included the idea of 'fear' and 'anxiety'."

Then Jesus gives us a lesson from the birds. It is not because we are without forethought which Jesus commends to our thought in the life of the birds; it is their freedom from care.

Are you not of greater value than the birds? One evening, father watched a bird as it sat perched on a limb of a tree, and then he said: "This little bird has had its supper, and is now getting ready to go to sleep here, quite secure and content, without worrying what its food will be, or where its lodgings on the morrow. Like David, it abides under the shadow of the Almighty."

Commercial Feeding Stuffs
Hundreds Of Brands Of Feeding Stuffs On The Market

Feeders of live stock and poultry accustomed to raising their own feed will be astonished to learn that there are hundreds of brands of commercial feeding stuffs on the market. Indeed, it is reported by the Seed Company, at Ottawa, that for the registration year ending September 30th, 848 brands of commercial feeding stuffs were registered by 228 manufacturers. The Province of Ontario stands highest both with the number of manufacturers and number of brands registered, there being no less than 453 varieties of feed made by 95 manufacturers. British Columbia follows with 174 brands made by 44 manufacturers.

The feeding stuffs are very carefully analyzed and are given registration only when they measure up to the requirements of the Feeding Stuffs Act.

Little Helps For This Week
"Choose you this day whom ye will serve."—Joshua xiv. 15.

But heard are the voices,—"Choose will, ye choose."—Brief, and yet endless. Here eyes do regard you in eternity's stillness; Here is the life; Here ye have, O reward you; Work, and despair not."

—Johann Wolfgang Von Goethe. You must choose whom you will serve. You cannot serve God and mammon; you cannot be a friend of Christ and a friend of the world at the same time. The way is narrow and rough, and there is no way saying: "It is not; but depend upon it, there can be no saving religion without sacrifice and self-denial.—Kyle.

Find Ancient Razor
The ancestor of all razors is believed to have been dug out of a sarcophagus at Moutiers-les-Bains, in the Somme Valley. Its edge is rusted off, but otherwise the straight-edged blade would be as good as new with honing. It was uncovered by the French archaeologist, Dhervieux, and the owner of the razor, who was shown declare it to be 70,000 years old.

Planning Second
Atlantic Trip

Commander Is Anxious To Refute Criticism Of Graf Zeppelin

The Hamburg correspondent of the Telegrapher Union quotes Dr. Hugo Eckener as saying that the Graf Zeppelin would make another transatlantic flight in order to refute criticisms that have come from various sources, particularly from Frederick Gilliland, who was one of the American passengers when the big ship travelled from Friedrichshafen to Lakehurst, N.J.

Dr. Eckener was quoted as saying that the dirigible was not wholly faultless, but that she was not as bad as her critics have painted her.

No date was mentioned for the second visit to the United States. It might come anytime before the spring of 1930, when the Zeppelin is under contract to carry Fridtjof Nansen over the unexplored Arctic regions northeast of Alaska.

Addressing the criticism of the voyage to the United States, were made as he started back to Europe on a steamer. He expressed dislike of the accommodations on the dirigible and of the treatment accorded the passengers, as well as doubts of the dirigible's safety. He was one of those hard hit by the "no-smoking" regulations.

Russia Responsible

Soviet Agents Built Foundation Says Governor Of Hong Kong

Addressing the Canadian Club at Vancouver, Sir Cecil Clementi, governor of Hong Kong, described the recent revolution in China, the foundation of which he said, had been built by Russian Soviet agents. It was Russian imperialism, he said, that the Chinese about driving British from their soil. British prestige once lost had been revived and it has now been officially announced that China desired to see British trade prosper in that country, he said.

Sir Cecil spoke of the need of understanding the Chinese if British merchants and diplomats were to succeed in the far east.

No Wonder
The bus had struck a patch of very bad road and the conductor was thrown off his balance. On regaining it, he accidentally stepped on a not-too-young woman's toe.

A violent argument ensued, which was finally terminated by the conductor demanding his opponent's fare.

The passenger snapped out her destination, tending a coin.

"Single?" asked the conductor.

"Yes," she snapped again.

The conductor looked her up and down.

"H'm," he murmured as a parting shot. "I'm not surprised!"

Starts Air Taxi Service
France's foremost woman pilot has been forbidden by the Government to drive an airplane on the big commercial lines, so she has started an airplane taxi service. Mile Maryse Bastie, holder of the world's record for straight-line flights by a woman in a light airplane, already possesses an airplane. She hopes to make a paying service between Paris and Deauville, Le Touquet, and other fashionable resorts next spring and summer.

CHAPTER X.—Continued.

The words of "A Dream," sung in an impassioned tenor voice, came with surprising distinctness:

"I dreamed thou wert living, my darling, my darling,
I dreamed that I pressed thee once more to my breast.
Thy soft perfumed tresses and gentle caresses
Thrilled me and stilled me and lulled me to rest."

Donald saw that Walnwright was deeply moved. His throat was working convulsively and he seemed to have difficulty in lighting his pipe. His shaking hands were cupped over his pipe-bowl in an attempt to hide his emotion. "His face was pale and tears brimmed his clear grey eyes."

"Come on, John, let's 'it up a jig!" cried Andy as he capered to his feet. To the lilt of the "Irish Washerwoman" the odd pair smacked the floor with their feet, whirled in giddy circles, and whooped like wild men. They linked arms and spun like a top until John's moccasined foot trod on Andy's long coat and brought them to the floor in a heap.

"The comedy helped Walnwright to regain his composure, and sent Connie into screams of happy laughter. "I've had a most wonderful evening, Andy," said Connie gratefully as they were leaving. "The most wonderful in my life," she added softly.

"By the way, Mr. Pettray," spoke Mr. Walnwright to the doggoey, "how are you progressing with your studies?"

"Not 'art bad," answered Andy. "I've learned about the sepals, calyx, corolla, pistil, filament anther pollen, style and stigma." As he rattled off these words he glanced at Gillis and Douglas. He had been longing for this chance to air his newly-acquired knowledge.

"Fine," complimented Walnwright smilingly. "You are having no difficulty, then?"

Andy wrinkled his brow. "I've found it a bit difficult," he began importantly; "just a bit you know, to identify the flowers as to whether they are outcross, confusate, peduncular, polyandrous, gynandrous, agynomorphous."

"Holy mackerel!" roared Gillis, as he clapped his hands over his ears. "Stop him, somebody!"

Douglas caught him by the coat-tail and dragged him from the door. Connie's cheerful laughter drifted back to them through the darkness. The breed crossed the outer edge of light thrown from the doorway and limped to the wall. Wherever Connie went her argus-eyed guardian flitted in the background.

FACE TERRIBLY DISFIGURED

Pimples Itched and Burned. Cuticura Heals.

"I had a breaking out of pimples on my face, neck, shoulders and arms. They itched and burned so badly that I had to scratch, causing severe irritation. My clothing aggravated the eruptions terribly, and I could not sleep on account of the itching. My face was terribly disfigured. The trouble lasted about four months."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After about the fifth application there was a marked improvement so I purchased more, and in four weeks I was healed." (Signed) Miss Millie Dickson, Brown's Brae, Ont., Sept. 16, 1927.

manifestation of sorrow by the God of Nature. With her breast heaving tumultuously, she leaned against the mammoth tree and pressed her cheek to its rough bark. "I'm sorry!" she whispered brokenly.

As if in answer to her words of compassion, the sun suddenly shined from the moon and the wind ceased. Donald shook himself. "Rather weird," he said, with a quick, nervous laugh. He turned to find that it was alone.

Events moved swiftly that week. King's report was favorable to Donald's plan, and word came that electrical equipment for the Summit Mill had been ordered.

At Donald's invitation Connie came to the station to witness the arrival of the first train. As the awesome black monster, with whistle screaming and bell clanging, roared through the rock cut at the south end of the lake and bore down upon them, Connie gasped in wonder. As the train came to a hissing stop she shrank against the walls of the building, a startled look in her eyes. She flushed at the men's hearty laughter.

The train was loaded with working-men, who with their bundles of blankets overflowed the small platform. A kitchen-car and a sleeping-car were shunted to the side-track while would be the home until the erection of the big dining-hall.

Donald was given charge of constructing the dam, Gillis started the lumbering operations, while Douglas moved to the Cheekamuk Mill. Andy was to be boss of the kitchen staff, and was kept busy overseeing the work of interior construction.

A portable mill was fast at work turning out timbers for the big plant, and carpenters and millwrights worked night and day. An American expert came with the machinery to superintend the installation. With the new task set him there descended on Donald a deep sense of responsibility. Unlike the others he worked on regular hours. A feeling of gratitude toward Robert Rennie for the confidence displayed in him kept him at top speed; his energy and resource seemed inexhaustible.

From the time his alarm clock—that harsh, bristling little destroyer—darkened its call at daylight until midnight filled the valley, he stuck to his task.

One week earlier than the time allotted he reported the dam as finished. Robert Rennie came with Renwick and King for a short trip of inspection, and as he was leaving he spoke a kindly word in commendation of Donald's work.

The Summit Mill was to be modern in every respect, lighted with electricity and provided with modern plumbing and hot shower-baths. The white steel beds of the dormitory were clothed in clean white sheets and pillow cases. There was no anarchy in this perfection to the ordinary logging-camp.

Need Of Emotional Training

Proper Training Of The Child May Mean Difference Between Mediocrity and Success

"From time immemorial the children of the world have been faithfully trained intellectually and morally, yet parents of the world have overlooked the child's greatest need, the need of emotional training from birth."

This declaration was made by Doctor Stanley A. Bland, Professor of Child Study at Bionell and Vassar Universities, in a recent address. In such training mental hygiene plays a great part but according to Dr. Bland, this does not mean mental defectiveness or its treatment, but the expansion of sound minds through emotional training. He declared that although trained to use his intellect the child may be personally defective. The average child might be morbidly timid, fearful or anxious; possibly moody, with no ability to make friends; it may be conceited or selfish or have an uncontrollable temper which may ruin, partially at least, its later adult life.

"Such emotional training may mean the difference between mediocrity and brilliance or success and failure. Yet it is only recently that steps have been taken to remedy this grave lack of training," declared Dr. Bland.

The speaker declared that from the time a child is 18 months old until it is five years old its training is the groundwork upon which its future will grow, be it good or bad.

Discovers New Type Of Receiving Set

Radio Experts Puzzled By Experience Of Santa Barbara Housewife

There may be sermons in stones, in the running brooks, but it was left for a Santa Barbara woman to reveal that there is a Schubert melody in a pan of boiling vegetables.

As the hoarse voice of a radio announcer burst through the kitchen steam of a quiet home there, and the strains of Ave Maria filtered from a pan of beans simmering on the electric range, the housewife might have been excused had she exhibited a touch of nervousness, because there was not a radio set anywhere in the house.

But she didn't. She approached the range in a scientific spirit and stirred up the beans vigorously. In answer a whole chorus burst into a hunt-song, followed by a crooning plantation melody.

Radio experts admitted they were baffled by the phenomenon, but pointed out that radio music has been heard in hot air shafts connected with electric furnaces. The bottom of the pan might have acted as a diaphragm and reproduced a radio program picked up inductively by the electric power line, they add.

Old Enough To Know

"Do your best and never worry. I have got shrewd through 108 years using that as my motto and despite my advanced age I'm not worrying yet." This is the advice for well-being offered by William Samuel Holden, of Jordan River, Shelburne County, Nova Scotia, who on December 20 celebrated his 108th birthday. He has spent his life in building ships and keeping a general store.

Answer Was Correct

Even the grave and dignified British Civil Service Commissioners could not resist being amused at an answer given at a recent examination. The question was: "Give for any one year the number of bales of cotton exported from America."

The applicant wrote: "1491. None."

Many arrests for betting have been made in Ireland recently.

Boat Launching Device

Six Lifeboats Launched In One Minute By New Contrivance

A device which launched six lifeboats per minute and the liner's motor ships within two minutes was tested out in New York, on the Canadian Pacific liner, "Duchess of Bedford." United States inspectors witnessed the test and found it satisfactory. The device known as the MacLachlan patent boat launching device, will be installed on the "Duchess of Bedford," six of whose boats were lowered seventy feet into the water within one minute, while it took only two minutes to lower and start under power the two motor ships which operate with the lifeboats. The latter were lowered with radio masts elevated and radio equipment in commission.

- 1 teaspoon grated onion.
- 3/4 cup chopped walnut meats.
- 1 teaspoon grated onion.
- Paprika.
- 1 teaspoon salt.

Into a well-buttered baking dish put a layer of thinly sliced potatoes, salt, pepper and a thin scattering of finely cut cheese and one-half the thin white sauce (1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon butter, to 1 cup milk). Repeat and cover with buttered crumbs. Bake in moderate oven about an hour, until the white sauce bubbles through and the potatoes are well done and browned on top. If cheese is omitted, add small pieces of butter to each layer of potatoes. In order to save time of making cream sauce, a small amount of dry flour can be sprinkled over layers of potato, and milk added to cover the potatoes.

ANGLING CONDITIONS

With regard to improving the angling conditions, generally speaking, a policy of closing small streams is being followed. This experiment has produced excellent results and will be extended.

The bull trout should be exterminated. This matter has not received sufficient attention at the hands of those in control of the game fish situation. A big bull trout does untold damage to the ranks of the game fish.

The sucker is another destroyer of game fish. He absorbs the spawn of millions of embryo game fish. The "grayling" is little better. He has some similar habits to those of the sucker and licks up the spawn from the bottom of the streams he frequents.

Our "grayling" is not a grayling at all, but is the lake white fish, changed by the new conditions he encounters in the rivers.

The real grayling is a game fish, and is found in streams in the Athabasca region. Dr. Sisley, of Calgary, member of the federal fish commission of 1911, declares that the real grayling would be an ideal sporting fish for southern waters. An effort will be made to try them out in Alberta streams.

The steelhead trout is doing well in Alberta. He is a fighting fish and will take fly, spinner or live minnow. He is really a salt water rainbow and may revert to the fresh water type.

The Waterton Lake hatchery will be functioning in 1929, with about the same output as that at Banff, 1,000,000. — Alberta Fish and Game Protection Association, Calgary.

EARLY PRINT SHOP CUSTOMS

(From Moxon's Mechanick Exercises, 1683)

Every printing house is by the customs of time out of mind, called a chapel; and all the workmen that belong to it are members of the chapel; and the oldest freeman is father of the chapel. I suppose the stile was originally conferred upon it by the courtesy of some great churchman, or men, (doubtless when chapels were in more veneration than of late years they have been here in England) who for the books of Divinity that proceeded from a printing house, gave it the revered title of chapel.

There have been formerly customs and by-laws made and intended for the well and good government of the chapel and for the more civil and orderly deportment of all its members while in the chapel; and the penalty for the breach of any of these laws and customs is in printers' language called a solace.

1. Swearing in the chapel, a solace.

2. Fighting in the chapel, a solace.

3. Abusive language, or giving the lie in the chapel, a solace.

4. To be drunk in the chapel, a solace.

5. For any of the workmen to leave his candle burning at night, a solace.

6. If the compositor left fall his composing stick, and another take it up, a solace.

7. Three letters and a space to lie under the compositor's case, a solace.

8. If a pressman let fall his ball or balls, and another take it up, a solace.

9. If a pressman leave his blankets in the tympan at noon or night, a solace.

These solaces were to be bought off, for the good of the chapel. Nor were the price of these solaces alike; for some were 12d., 6d., 4d., 2d., 1d., oh, according to the nature and quality of the solace.

But if the delinquent proved obstinate or refractory and would not pay his solace at the price of the chapel; they solaced him.

The manner of solacing, thus: The workmen take him by force and lay him on his belly a-bowt the correcting stone, and held him there while another of the workmen, with a paper-board, gave him 101, and a purse, viz: eleven blows on his buttocks; which he laid on according to his own mercy.

These nine solaces were all the solaces usually and generally accepted; yet in some particular chapels the workmen did by consent make other solaces, viz:

That is should be a solace for any of the workmen to mention joining their penny or more solace to send for drink.

To play at quadrats, or excite any of the chapel to play at quadrats; either for money or drink.

This solace is generally purchased by the master-printer; as well because it hinders the workmen's work, as because it batters and spoils the quadrats: For the manner how they play with them is thus: They take five or seven more in quadrats (generally of the English body) and holding their hand below the surface of the correcting stone, shake them in their hand, and toss them up upon the stone, and then count how many nicks upwards each man throws in three times, or any number of times agreed on: And he that throws most wins the bet of all the rest and stands out free 'till the rest have try'd who throws fewest nicks upwards in so many throws; for all the rest are free: and he pays the bet.—Ex.

Make 1929 a Happy New Year

The old year has become a part of the history of the past. The new year has dawned. It is with a feeling of optimism that the people of Canada have hailed its coming. Conditions throughout the Dominion are most encouraging and the outlook for the future is distinctly bright.

If we all have faith in Canada, in her institutions, in her enterprises, in her resources, and we all work together striving for her greater development and prosperity, there is hardly any limit to the greatness to which as a people we can carry our country forward.

But if in 1929, the Canadian people are to realize the bright hopes entertained for their Dominion at the dawning of the year, there must be a realization of the fact that each individual must do his or her share. There is not a Canadian citizen, no matter how humble the sphere they occupy, but who has in their power to do something to either promote or retard the welfare of the country during the next twelve months.

Of first importance is our own outlook on life. If that outlook is a cheerful, optimistic one; if we are eager to see the bright, rather than the dark things of everyday life; if we strive to see the good in all matters and things which affect ourselves and the community in which we live; if in our criticism of public men and affairs we seek to be constructive, to build up rather than tear down; if in a word, our thoughts and actions are of kindly intent, then a good foundation is laid for our work of making the new year the brightest, happiest, most prosperous Canada has ever known.

Next in importance is to realize that for the vast majority the best service that can be rendered to Canada is to be found in the faithful discharge of whatever duties may fall to us in the daily round of ordinary tasks. For example, if, without a single exception, the farmers of the Dominion tilled the soil a little better, used somewhat better seed, fought weeds a little more vigorously, who can measure what the aggregate result would be in larger, better crops and resultant national prosperity? Or, if every office clerk, every workman and laborer, did their work this year a little more conscientiously, exercising greater care and promptitude, the effect on the business of the Dominion would be tremendous.

Who can possibly compute the gain to Canada in 1929, if men and women, boys and girls, employers and employees, individually and collectively, co-operated to promote health and prevent disease; by taking only reasonable precautions largely reduced loss of life and property through fire; by obeying the laws and observing the courtesies of the road eliminated many of the preventable automobile accidents?

There is nothing very great or wonderful about these and sundry other matters of a like kind. They are in no sense spectacular. Their accomplishment does not call for great executive ability, large wealth, or high position. No, it is within the power of everybody to contribute their quota.

But it is just through the exercise of such commonplace qualities as care, forethought, presence of mind, courtesy, faithfulness to duty in discharging the smallest task, that this new year can be made exceptionally bright, unbelievably happy, and enormously prosperous.

And is Canada not worthy of such simple but effective service? Consider all the countries in the world today! Can you name one that is healthier, that has more varied beauty of mountains, lakes, rivers and forests, that possesses greater wealth of natural resources, that has less poverty, fewer slums, a better system of education or of government, more of the modern comforts of life available to a greater proportion of the total population, or that offers greater opportunities for advancement to those eager and willing to work that they may take advantage of offered opportunities?

Canada is deserving of the best we have in us to give, and if we give it, as we should, there is no country in the world which will so fully and so quickly reward the giver.

Canada's Living Cost Lowest

Great Britain and United States Considerably Higher

The cost of living in Canada, while over 50 per cent. higher than before the war, still continues lower than in the United States, Great Britain, and any of the principal countries. Taking 1913 as 100, the index cost of living in Canada in October, was 153, in the United States, 170, and in Great Britain, 166.

The year 1920 was the peak of living costs in all countries save for the fantastic prices of the depreciated currency period in some of the middle European nations. In Canada, in 1920, it rose to 190; in the United States, 200.4; in Great Britain, 255. There was a slump in Canada in 1924, and then a rise to 152 in October of last year.

The index of retail prices, rents and services in Canada was 153 in November, as compared with 152 last November. Food and clothing reached their peak in 1920, fell in 1921, and rose in 1924-25. Generally speaking food, fuel and clothing, are low this year compared to the post-war years. In November of 1924, as compared with November, 1927, foods were lower, save eggs and butter, which were higher.

Gift Will Be Appreciated

British Hospitals Receive £50,000 For Purchase Of Radium

The urgent need of the London hospitals for radium has produced a munificent gift, Sir Otto Beit has placed at the disposal of King Edward Hospital Fund a sum of £50,000 to be spent in the purchase of radium for distribution on loan among those institutions which can make the best use of it. The present cost of radium is about £12,500 a gramme. The Radium Institute, which holds the largest stock in the country, has only five grammes. From such figures the beneficial value of Sir Otto Beit's gift may be judged.

Puzzle For Jurymen

The foreman was arguing with the jurymen who was holding out on the case.

"How can you refuse to convict that man with all the evidence clearly against him?" he asked, crossly.

"Huh!" snorted the stubborn one in disgust, "how can I convict him of manslaughter when it was a woman he killed!"

Agricultural products in British Columbia in 1928, valued at $71,029,000, is higher than in any previous year.

Invisible Death Ray

New Invention Of German Experimenters Has Fearful Possibilities
Capable of exploding one kilogram of coal with a force of 10,000,000,000 horsepower and creating instant death to anything it touches are claims laid by Erich Graichen, 30, of Berlin, Germany, for his "invisible death ray."

Graichen's ray is produced by an electrical current of 160,000 volts passed through a vacuum valve of quartz glass containing an anode and two cathodes. The ray is the product of a combination of Hertzian or X-rays, cathode rays and light rays.

The purpose of the ray, according to Graichen, is to isolate atoms and help eradicate cancer.

His present ray is said to kill at 15 feet. "I am afraid under present inadequate conditions," he says, "it is necessary to destroy everything in the laboratory."

NEGLECTED ANAEMIA

Often Leads To The Most Serious Consequences

In no disorder is delay or neglect more dangerous than in anaemia. Usually the first noticeable signs are pale lips and cheeks, dark rings under the eyes and a feeling of weariness. Then follow headaches, backaches, palpitation and breathlessness. The only way that anaemia can be overcome is to enrich the blood, and it is because of their wonderful blood-enriching and blood-making properties that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have won such great success in the treatment of this often most stubborn disease.

Thousands of young girls who were in an anaemic condition owe their present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. One of them, Miss Kate McEachern, Port Hood, N.S., says: "I praise the day I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was not feeling well for some time. I was very pale, had severe headaches, dizzy spells, and occasional fainting spells. The least exertion would leave me tired and breathless. In this condition I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had taken six boxes, by which time I was again enjoying good health. I know my experience will lead other sufferers to give this medicine a fair trial."

If you are at all run-down, or weak, you should begin at once to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you will soon be well and strong. These pills are sold by all medicine dealers and will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Beneath His Status

Bricklayer's Laborer Chose Unemployment Rather Than Wield Broom

The Unemployment Insurance Umpire of the British Ministry of Labor, has just struck a blow at the dignity of a bricklayer's laborer who refused to sweep a yard because he considered that it was beneath his status.

The foreman wanted him to do general laborer's work, he said, he would have to give him an hour's notice terminating his engagement as a bricklayer's laborer and re-engage him as a general laborer.

The foreman told the man either to do the work, or clear out. He cleared.

Then he made application for the dole. The Employment Exchange refused his application, but he appealed to the Court of Referees and they sanctioned it. The Chief Insurance Officer, however, appealed to the Umpire, who has just decided against the man.

"If a laborer chooses to throw himself out of employment," he says, in delivering his decision, "because he considers his status lowered by being impaired by sweeping a yard, he must not expect to be compensated for his loss of employment out of the Unemployment Insurance Fund."

Quite Impossible

A man complained to a parson of the continual noise made on a trombone by a neighbor.

"Can a man," he asked, "who practices music on an instrument from morning to night be a good Christian?"

"Such a man might possibly be a good Christian," replied the parson, "but his neighbor couldn't!"

Radio Users Will Welcome New Invention

Device To Eliminate Static Said To Work Perfectly

If the report that a convict in the state prison at Nebraska has invented a device for the elimination of static from radio proves true, then a great revolution is assured in the radio world, as a contemporary points out. Everybody who has had anything to do with radio knows the intense irritation that is caused by the sudden substitution of a series of crackling noises, very much like a bunch of Chinese crackers going off together, for the song or the speech; or whatever is coming through the air at the moment. Experts have never been able to determine precisely how this disturbance is caused, nor have they ever been able to do anything towards its elimination. It has been the one big blot on the enjoyment of the radio enthusiast, and it has probably caused more outbursts of bad temper than any other single factor since radio was invented.

The name of the convict to whom credit is given for this highly important discovery is Louis Claret. The prison warden is backing him to secure patents. The device is reported to be small, fits into the radio, has been tried out on five different makes, has operated perfectly in destroying static in each case, and can be manufactured for the small cost of one dollar. As there are millions of radios in use on the North American continent, and as each one will want a static eliminator, a fortune is in sight for the inventor. It is also within the range of possibility that his sentence may be shortened in recognition of his services to humanity.—Regina Daily Post.

Distinguished English

Character Actor

Bransby Williams Will Execute Prosean Part In New Oliver Twist Play

When the distinguished English character-actor, Bransby Williams, comes to western Canada in the near future, one of the outstanding features of his repertoire of four plays will be an entirely new acting version of "Oliver Twist." As the greatest living expert on Dickensian drama, Mr. Bransby Williams is well qualified to prepare a dramatic version of any of the novels of Dickens that lend themselves to such treatment. In his new version of "Oliver Twist," he has introduced a novel feature.

By the elimination of all superfluous dialogue, Mr. Williams unfolds the story and preserves the continuity of its action with the introduction of a series of clever and artistic camera cuts which are interspersed with the big dramatic scenes of the play.

In this manner, long waits for changes of scenery are avoided. The audience witnesses the finding of Oliver by the Artful Dodger; his introduction to Fagin the Jew, his ultimate escape from the thieves' den, and his recapture and later developments, exactly in accordance with the novel.

Mr. Bransby Williams will undertake in the presentation of "Oliver Twist" to play two roles as widely dissimilar as could well be imagined, Fagin and Mr. Grimwig. He sets himself a severe test as a protean actor here, for the two types are as far apart as the poles. But so successful is his technique that he can sink his personality completely in his portrayal of each role, and effect a complete change both of make-up and mentality, to a degree that makes people wonder whether the same man could possibly play both parts.

Details of "A Romance of the Road," another new play which Mr. Bransby Williams will present in the west, will be forthcoming shortly.

The version of "Treasure Island" is well known, and gives the vital features of the famous Stevenson classic in a vivid and dramatic manner.

Fliers Find New Islands

Members Of Wilkins Expedition Discover Six New South Pole

Ole Eilsson, of Grand Forks, N.D., father of Ben Eilsson, famous flier and chief pilot with the Wilkins expedition in the South Pole region has received a message from his son, relayed from San Francisco, which said the two explorers had just returned from a 1,200 mile flight over unknown regions, and had discovered six new islands.

It is not known definitely just where the fliers started nor which direction they took in the flight, but it is presumed that they used the same machine which carried them over the North Pole region, as this machine was in perfect shape when taken on the southern trip.

BRANCH LINE PROGRAM OF C.N. WILL BE HEAVY

Montreal.—The Canadian National Railway, it was officially announced, will ask parliament, when it reassembles in January or February, for authority to "construct additional branch line mileage, the program presented to be carried to completion within the succeeding three years."

Mr. Henry Thornton, chairman and president, and S. J. Hungerford, vice-president in charge of operation and construction, have made a close study of the branch line needs of the National system and their recommendations are now being completed.

While no details are forthcoming at present it is definitely known that the extension from Aberdeen to Melville, Sask., will be requested and it is understood that the new branch line program may be somewhat larger than that presented to parliament in April, 1927, when 506 miles of new lines were included. Due to the fact that parliamentary sanction was forthcoming in the early spring of 1927, excellent progress was made that year and in 1928 on the work authorized. As a consequence working forces and construction equipment will be available early in the summer of 1929 for the new construction work admittedly necessary to keep pace with agricultural and other development.

Britain Wants Penny Postage

Would Follow Example Set By Canada To Restore Cheap Postal Rate

London, Eng.—The Daily Chronicle expresses the hope that Right Hon. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, will take note of the decision of the Canadian Government to restore penny postage, and asks why Canada should have taken action before Great Britain in giving practical effect to the principle laid down by Right Hon. L. C. M. Amery, secretary for the dominions, namely, that the conduct of business depends upon cheap and effective intercourse.

The newspaper declares: "When we demand penny postage we are not asking that it should be provided at a loss for the post office. The surplus in the neighborhood of £7,000,000 and reduction in a penny would only cost £5,500,000."

When Churchill says that he cannot afford it, he is using words which have no meaning, for by annexing the post office surplus he is simply levying a tax on letter postage. Such a levy on trade intercourse is a form of taxation which this country can least of all afford."

New York Making Raid On Criminals

In addition, the commissioner disclosed that several gunmen were caught. From now on a special effort will be made to rid the city of that type of criminal, Whalen said.

Receive Salary Increases

Officers and Clerks In Federal Income Tax Office Ask To Benefit

Ottawa.—Something over a thousand officers and clerks of the federal income tax division throughout Canada received a substantial gift on the eve of Christmas in the form of increase in salary. What is more, the increase is retroactive to April 1st—beginning of the fiscal year.

The raises vary from forty dollars to nearly eight hundred a year, according to the position held and the responsibility attaching to it. The income tax division is not under the civil service act and those who are employed in it have not shared in the increases in recent years extended to other branches of the service.

Queen Appreciated

Message From Canada

Governor-General Receives Thanks For Greetings To King George

Ottawa.—A message from Queen Mary, at Buckingham Palace, where King George is slowly improving from his serious illness, was forwarded by the Governor-General, to Premier Mackenzie King, at Laurier House, Ottawa.

"On this Christmas morning," the Queen, "my children and I thank you from our hearts." The Queen's message was in reply to one sent by Premier King, conveying to King George Christmas greetings on behalf of the government and people of Canada who "join our prayers to those of all parts of the Empire for the complete restoration of your Majesty to health and strength."

The message from her Majesty said: "Please be assured that the message of greetings which you have so kindly sent on behalf of the King's government in Canada and the people of the Dominion will be highly appreciated and valued by the King when his progress to recovery is sufficiently advanced for him to receive it personally."

WILL CONSIDER AMENDMENTS TO THE GRAIN ACT

Ottawa.—Amendment of the Canada Grain Act as a means of improving the existing system of grading is under consideration by the federal government, it was learned here.

Arising out of the investigation's present being conducted in the western provinces by the commission on grain grading, it is understood steps will be taken at the forthcoming session of parliament to overcome any dissatisfaction among grain growers by amending the act.

While the details of the proposed changes have not yet been disclosed, it is believed that the government will recommend the re-drafting of clauses in the act relating to grading, in an effort to clarify and make more uniform their interpretation. The regulations would be so framed that farmers would be in a position to determine on their own accord the grade they might expect for their wheat.

Reduction of the number of varieties of wheat which would qualify for the contract grades is another suggestion for improvement of the grading system. It is pointed out by authorities that this multiplicity of strains grown in Canada at the present time lends itself to the aggravation of the problem.

Several other proposed changes are under consideration, among them the one relating to mixing. It is understood that the federal department of agriculture is in favor of prohibiting mixing red and white wheat in the future. This practice, it is pointed out, has provoked considerable dissatisfaction among importers in Great Britain.

Income Tax For Bermuda

A Jolt Eliminator

This machine recently placed in operation by the Canadian Pacific Railway, is one of the many things which contribute to the smooth ride on rails. By welding a deposit of nickel steel to the worn rail surface at the joints with this apparatus and grinding a smooth surface the bump at the joint is practically eliminated. The machine which propels itself by electricity consists of a gasoline motor which runs two generators supplying power to the electric metallic-arc welding apparatus and a grinder.

Prince Asks Relief For Workless Miners

Nearly Two Million Persons In Need Of Immediate Help

London, England.—The Prince of Wales' appeal broadcast on behalf of the distressed miners of Britain has awakened the country to the plight of nearly two million souls, who now constitute an economic burden on the country.

The Prince made his appeal on behalf of the Lord Mayor's fund for the relief of the distressed mining areas. He pointed out that 250,000 miners were workless, which meant at least 750,000 dependents, other estimates places the figure much higher, and it is generally accepted that there are now nearly a million persons in the mining and allied industries idle. In addition, there are approximately another million persons receiving relief from the poor law.

Many remedies have been suggested, ranging from a reform of the banking system so as to make credit for productive industry available at nominal interest to a great scheme for public works.

Disastrous Fire

In Hall Hospital

Nine Fatally Burned But Patients Were Removed Safely

Hull, Que.—Thirty-seven patients, many of them mothers with babies, some a few hours old, were carried from Sacred Heart Hospital here early Christmas morning when a fire in the laundry chute spread over the entire central portion of the building.

One man died during the afternoon as a result of burns he sustained when he put out the blaze with a chemical extinguisher. She is Sister Cella, formerly Miss M. Chevrier of Cartierville, Que. She was 22 years of age.

The patients were taken to residences near the hospital and later most of them were transferred to the Water street hospital, Ottawa.

So far as could be ascertained none of these were seriously affected by their experiences.

Fire Captain Z. Leblanc, of the Hull brigade, is reported in a critical condition from smoke poisoning. Property damaged was estimated at $76,000.

Self-Government For India

Want Dominion Status Rather Than Complete Independence

Calcutta, India.—Self-governing dominion status for India rather than the alternative of complete independence, was the policy urged upon the All-Indian and Moslem League at its opening session by Maharajah Mahmudabad, the president.

He declared the British connection gave India undeniable security and was a valuable asset to Indian nationalism, "which must face laborious decades before reaching sturdy manhood," he added.

BYRD ARRIVES AT POLAR BASE FOR ADVENTURE

New York.—Commander Richard E. Byrd, head of an expedition to the "ice man's" land, is at the threshold of one of the greatest adventures of this adventurous century.

Before him lies the last geographical challenge to science—rigid, formidable antarctic, a continent of 6,000,000 square miles which is as little known that, even a large part of its glacier-fringed coast line must be mapped by guess.

Byrd commands a million-dollar expedition, equipped as few, if any, previous polar parties have been fitted out, and is prepared to spend two years, if necessary, in wrestling from the vast land of silence secrets that science has long wanted to know.

The party finds itself at the Bay of Whales—one of the gateways to the continent—virtually at mid-summer, when conditions are most favorable for the flying which Byrd plans to do. Whether he will attempt an ice aerial trip to the South Pole is regarded as doubtful; it is believed, rather, that he will postpone this spectacular part of his program until the expedition has its second wind on the storm-swept equator of ice that extends for an indefinite distance in the continental indentation known as Ross Sea.

On the South American side of Antarctica is Sir George Hubert Wilkins, himself an aviator of note, who is also known to be planning a polar flight. The two armies have disavowed any intention of racing to the pole, previously visited by Amundsen and Scott, after sledge journeys over land, but it is known that each would like to be the first man to reach it by air.

Wilkins has already made at least one long Antarctic flight from his base at Deception Island near the Weddell Sea, and hence finds himself with a good bit of South Polar flying experience.

When supplies have been swung ashore from the expedition's boats, no small problem itself in view of the height of the ice wall—the adventurers will erect the portable houses that are to be their homes during many months. When the encampment is complete it will be a tiny town, with dwellings, a recreation room, library, kitchen, workshop, store houses for tons of food and the gasoline and shelters for the four aeroplanes.

Taking advantage of the slight moderation in temperature and storm which brief Antarctic summer will afford the expedition expects to make a start at buying supply base along the 80-mile route which Byrd's big bi-motored aeroplane is to take some day to the pole.

B. C. WILL URGE LOWER DOMESTIC GRAIN RATES

Victoria.—British Columbia will soon launch a campaign to secure for its farmers drastic reduction in domestic grain rates, for many years a leading objective of the whole agricultural industry, Premier B. F. Tolmie has announced.

"Meanwhile when the Railway Commission sits in Vancouver early in January, the province will ask for heavy reductions in express rates to benefit business generally, but particularly to assist the fruit industry of the interior, the premier said.

"We are not ready yet to launch our domestic grain rate application," the premier explained, "but meanwhile we are going ahead with the express rates hearing. The rate situation is most unsatisfactory to this province and the Government will not leave a stone unturned in its effort to rectify this condition. In due course when proper preparations can be made, the work will start. There is no use going ahead unprepared at too short notice so that at the Vancouver sitting of the Railway Commission we shall pursue only our application for lower express rates."

Isaac Pihlblad, K.C., of Winnipeg, will represent British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Manitoba before the commission in Vancouver. This agreement by which the western provinces are represented, jointly was reached some time ago and aimed at a preliminary hearing on express rates in Ottawa. It will be continued in the coast hearings of the commission.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

(By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee Oklahoma)

W. G. Mills, editor of the Plymouth (England) Evening Herald, says: That the essential of successful advertising is that it should contain the substance and the essence of truth.

The public does not expect a man to disparage his own wares; but it should be encouraged to expect neither less nor more than truth when it is being urged to buy or persuaded to support some cause.

For a while big business may come to the prodigious boosters of pills concocted of aloe and soap; of fooden nutmeg; of a breakfast food consisting of baked and sweetened chaff, but in the long run the public discovers the cheat and the effect is bad alike for honest and dishonest traders.

Men—though not, maybe, universally as Thomas Carlyle said they were—are still gullible in the mass; but circumstance does not give the permit, even in self-interest, to the advertiser who seeks a perpetual market for his merchandise to apply his false beguilements at the expense of the weak-minded. He needs must be able to supply goods (and, of course by goods I mean every admissible commodity) at least of the nature and quality promised in his advertisements.

Only if it resolutely adheres to the truth is advertising ultimately justifiable on moral or business grounds. That is why I say that the essence and substance of truth are the essentials of advertising.

CANADIAN GIRLS

NO ATTRACTION

Thirty-two British public school boys, under the leadership of the Rev. G. H. Wooley, V.C., M.C., who have been, on a two months' tour of Canada, arrived home on the White Star liner Laurentic recently. They visited every province in Canada and spent eight days in Newfoundland.

One of the boys in the party, on being questioned as to his impressions of the tour, confined his remarks to the female populace of the Dominion:

"All the girls out in Canada are much younger than what they look," he said. "This is because they commence to paint and powder when they are still at college. They are very nice to go out with for a day but I wouldn't like to marry any of them. Now, the girls in Newfoundland, they're fresh. They've got 'that school-girl complexion' without visiting the chemist. I could marry them all."

Among the schools represented in the party were Eton, Harrow, Hallowbury, Cheltenham and Marlborough. —From the Scotsman.
